

The public air ways are for the public, with a variety of views and opinions. Concentrating the power of mass communication in the hands of a few corporations is not good for the exercise of free speech. That by the way is part of the U.S. Constitution.